

Youth Advisory Commissions

Updated August 2020

What is a YAC?

Every city, regardless of its size or location, shares a common resource—arguably its greatest resource—its youth. Creating safe and enriching environments that our children can thrive in is really what it is all about. Moving beyond satisfying these core needs, your city can also tap in to youth perspective, creativity, and energy by creating a youth advisory commission (YAC).

There are dozens of YACs operating across the state, each with their own personality. Some focus on community service, others concentrate on peer involvement, and some operate as mini-city councils that deliberate issues and make recommendations. All give youth a voice and a stake in their city government. YACs provide cities with energetic volunteers for civic projects, give city leaders a fresh viewpoint on issues challenging our cities, and create a sense of accomplishment for our youth.

From City of Muleshoe Youth Advisory Council Commitment Pledge:

The goal of the Muleshoe Youth Advisory Council is to develop a group of youth leaders who are committed to learning about local government and the roles youth can have in it. Muleshoe YAC will also learn to make a difference in our community and the lives of other youth, recognizing their voice and using it and representing other youth in the City of Muleshoe. Time, effort, and commitment are involved.

From the Lake Jackson Youth Advisory Commission flyer:

Why should I join YAC?

- Be a voice for the youth of Lake Jackson
- Meet new people
- Have fun
- Volunteer in the community
- Be involved in city activities by being a part of the city

Benefits

The benefit of YACs works both ways. Youth have an outlet to affect change in their community and have a place to interact with their peers and adults on issues of importance to their community. On the flip side, the city creates an outlet to not only engage youth but to harness their energy and ideas.

How to Form a YAC

Get buy in and feedback from your youth. Talk with the youth in your community. Ask them if a youth commission would be an appropriate forum for their participation.

Back it up on paper. Work with your youth to develop YAC bylaws. These bylaws should outline the duties and responsibilities of the commission. Several YACs have also been established by city ordinance as well.

Keep it going. Maintaining your YAC requires an enthusiastic champion within city hall and a plan for recruiting new members. Your adult leader/cheerleader will need to take an active role in recruitment—whether it is reaching out to local schools, holding an open house at city hall, or tapping current members to recruit their peers.

How TML Can Help

The formation of youth advisory commissions in cities across the state is a priority of the Texas Municipal League (TML) Board of Directors. In 2003, then-TML President Jackie Levingston championed the issue, and today more than 45 Texas cities have programs that involve youth. This initiative provides cities with energetic volunteers for civic projects, gives city leaders a fresh perspective on issues challenging our cities, and creates a sense of accomplishment for our youth.

The sky is the limit in regards to the types of projects your YAC can undertake. A great way for adult leaders and youth to connect to new ideas and spark innovation is to meet with other youth groups. TML has two terrific outlets to do just that.

1. Join the YouthNet Listserv at www.netqa.org/youthnet.

The YouthNet listserv is an easy way to collaborate on youth-focused city initiatives, projects, and issues. YouthNet is a complimentary service open to all TML member city officials.

2. Attend the annual Texas Youth Advisory Commission Summit. TML is proud to sponsor an annual youth summit. The first Texas Youth Advisory Commission Summit was held in Woodway in 2001. Nearly 50 city officials and youth leaders attended the summit.

In 2003, the TML board approved the sponsorship of the YAC summit. This commitment continues today as well as the summit's success. More recently, the 2019 summit in Fort Worth attracted 382 participants, and the 2020 summit in Kyle attracted 236 participants.

Over the years, participants have been exposed to exciting careers (from lawmakers to film-makers), have heard from inspiring speakers, have forged lasting friendships, have exchanged ideas, have served those in need through a variety of community service projects, and have had fun.

For more information about the upcoming annual summit (which is usually held in February), go to www.yacsummit.org.
